THE SKYLINE

FINCH COLLEGE
NEW YORK

We, the class of 1969, dedicate this yearbook to Dean Rodney O. Felder, whose devotion to Finch College is exceeded only by his sympathetic understanding of Finch students. With keen intellect and sense of humor, notwithstanding the burdens of administrative office, he never loses sight of the individual student and her need for guidance and encouragement.

Finch College is truly fortunate to have Dean Felder, whose unique approach to education has enabled him to bridge the gap between the "we" and the "they".

“ . . . even though we must face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed—we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.”

Fellow Students:

As this letter goes to press, we are in the midst of an evaluation and reorganization at Finch. Precipitated by Student Council, and concentrating on making the structure of our student government pertinent to the reality of the existing situation of the college and the times, we are hopeful that our efforts will effectuate greater coherence in student activities and communicate to all concerned members of the Finch community our awareness of and dedication to the idea of a relevant education.

In summarizing the contributions and the characteristics of the various classes, I think of the generation gap that exists between the Seniors and the Sophomores. The "New Breed" is indeed here at Finch, with its great ideas and its impatience, and it is felt everywhere.

The Freshmen are a part of it, quiet because they are new. They are intelligently surveying the situation to see where they can help.

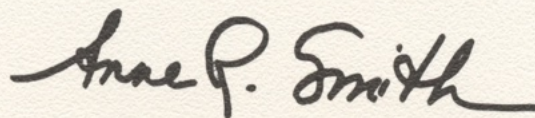

The Sophomores have earned their wings and are letting fly with all that has been put inside of them in the last nineteen years. They are creative and they want to build. They want it so much that they are upset when things aren't done ten minutes ago.

The Juniors are part of the "New Breed" also, in many ways at least. They are not as vocal and they depend on the inherent commitment of the Sophomores to motivate them into action. They have the patience and the methodic quality lacking in the Sophomores. The two classes are a good team.

The Seniors, for the most part, are Seniors, with as many different attitudes and directions as there are people in the class. All have been or are going through the traditional senioritis, deciding where to go from here; graduate school, career, or wife and mother. Again, a new beginning, with all the excitement and fear that accompanies this kind of anticipation.

All together these classes make up a wide spectrum of ideas and individuals. There is no way to give an accurate caricature of the Finch student in 1969. And that is just the way we like it.

With very best wishes,

STUDENT COUNCIL

STUDENT CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

The Student Curriculum Committee was established to consult with the Educational Policy Committee on suggestions for revisions in or additions to the college curriculum. The Committee was first organized in the fall of 1968, and consists of a senior representative from each four-year major and a second-year major from each two-year major

HOUSE COMMITTEE

The House Committee is composed of the three dormitory presidents, two representatives (resident students) from each class, and the president of the Committee. House Committee meets weekly to discuss matters affecting the welfare of resident students and to determine penalties for infractions of the rules.

1968-69 has been a transitional period for the Committee. Its goal has been to meet the changing needs of the resident community and at the same time make the students more aware of their responsibilities as individuals. By rewriting the Resident Student Handbook, the Committee took its first step toward reaching this goal.

In addition, House Committee worked with Student Council to establish a new system of student government, to determine the spheres of student responsibility at Finch, and also to unite more closely the resident and day students.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

The Inter-Club Council is composed of the president and chairmen of student clubs and committees at Finch. The members have one goal in mind: to instill in students interest in and enthusiasm for the activities provided by various student organizations. The Council coordinates the efforts of these organizations into a unified program.

VOLUNTEER SERVICE LEAGUE

Top of stairs down to right: M. Baker, J. Yoder, F. Burditt, K. McGregor, J. Mart, S. Mau, President, S. Wunderli, J. Wunker, V. Carroll.

The Volunteer Service League was founded in 1968. Its main purpose is to acquaint Finch students with the wide variety of volunteer services in New York City. Each individual member's interest is coordinated with a volunteer service by the New York Volunteer Coordinating Council.

Members work as aides in hospital public relations, aides to lawyers in Spanish Harlem, tutors for elementary school students, playground supervisors, assistants in hospital wards, English teachers for Puerto Rican families, and aides with the City's Department of Finance.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Through the Library Committee students can communicate their opinions on all facets of the operations of the library. Composed of students particularly concerned with the welfare of the library, the Committee meets often with its faculty affiliates to exchange ideas, evaluate current operations and formulate new policies.

This year the Library Committee dealt with the problems created by the expansion of the library's facilities. Among the student suggestions implemented were reinstatement of the overnight borrowing of reserve books and extensions of library hours.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is composed of students interested in world-wide affairs. The Club sponsors guest lectures, student discussions, and symposia. Among the speakers who dealt with domestic issues were Michael Saperstein, director of the Speakers Bureau for Nixon-Agnew; Brian O'Dwyer, who spoke on his father's campaign for the Senate; Congressman Jonathan Bingham of the Bronx; William Booth, chairman of the New York Commission on Human Rights; Mrs. Maude Katz, a Black Militant, and L. Williams, director of activities for Boy's Harbor. A mock election was held during the political campaign, with Humphrey winning an overwhelming majority.

Speakers on international affairs included Mr. Mohmoud El-Okdah, chief of research for the Arab States Delegation Office; Congressman Ogden Reid of Westchester; Edward Pell, public affairs officer for Radio Liberty, and Kenneth T. Young, former ambassador to Thailand and president of the Asia Society.

The IRC also sent students to conferences at other schools. These included the National Model United Nations, in which the Finch delegation represented Upper Volta; the Sixth Annual China Conference; the Colgate conference on Eastern Europe, and the University of Pennsylvania's Conference on Student Political Power.

DEBATE PANEL

The Debate Panel was founded in the fall of 1968 to give Finch students a chance to participate in the classic college tradition of debating.

Although a neophyte team, Finch challenged Princeton on the topic of "Resolved: That Co-education is Preferable to Monasticism." The debate ended in a draw. The Panel followed their first debate with challenges to Columbia, Colgate, Dartmouth, Yale, Williams and Harvard.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Members are: Dr. Rosa Clough, N. Croghan, Dean Felder, K. Haigney, Dean Harries, Ex-Officio, Dr. Diane Kelder, M. Parker, Mr. William Post.

The Assembly Committee tries to obtain a wide variety of interesting outside speakers. With the excitement of the political campaign the committee tried to present the views of the different candidates. Among the speakers were Robert Humphrey, who presented his father's position on the major issues, and the two candidates for the Seventeenth Congressional District seat (Finch's district): Edward I. Koch and Whitney North Seymour, Jr.

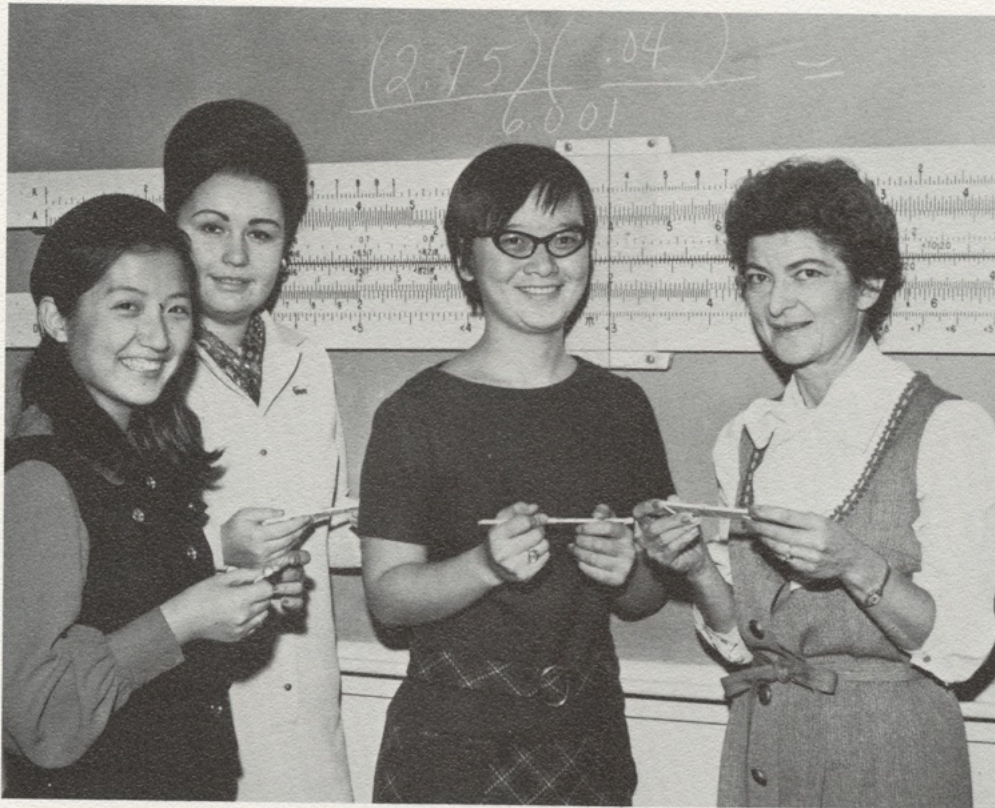

In addition, Dr. Anne Coffin Hanson, director of the Museum of Modern Art, International Study Center, spoke on the creative mind. Other assembly programs dealt with the dominant woman in the French theater and the field of anthropology.

Informal assemblies with teas were introduced in February with the appearance of New Yorker cartoonist Charles Saxon, who spoke on art as a form of social criticism.

MATH CLUB

$$\frac{(\cos x + 2\sin x)^2}{\cos x} = \ln(\sec x + \tan x) - 4\cos x + c$$

The Math Club acts both as a tutoring service for students needing help in their math courses and a forum for students interested in working out problems and puzzles in the various fields of mathematics.

This year the Club coordinated its activities with other colleges and universities in the New York City area. In addition, the Club's activities included numerous trips to computer program centers and math orientated business firms.

FILM SOCIETY

Film Society members for 1968-69, all of whom were absent when the above scene from a 1930's musical was filmed, were: N. Quinn, President, E. Cott, Vice-President, D. Capone, Secretary, P. Scott, Treasurer, S. Shickman, Production Assistant, L. McChristian and L. Stiles, Art Department.

The Finch College Film Society was organized in the spring of 1968 due to the growing interest at Finch in film as an art form.

This year, the Society sponsored evening film programs, some with guest speakers. The films included von Stroheim's "Foolish Wives," selections from musicals of the thirties, Eisenstein's "Potemkin," early films by Méliès and Lumière, "My Darling Clementine," and "underground" films.

In conjunction with the course "Blacks in White America," "The Jungle," a film about a Philadelphia ghetto, and D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation" were shown.

The members of the Society also visited filmmakers' studios and viewed experimental films.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The Social Committee serves to provide an opportunity for Finch students to enjoy themselves while meeting new people. This year's activities included a Christmas dance at La Martinique, mixers at the Princeton Club, North Hall and La Martinique, and bus trips to various men's colleges.

THE INCORPORATED

Second row: F. Burditt, F. Symonds, J. Berwick.
Absent: F. Stewart, R. Niculescu.

The Incorporated is an independent choral group whose repertoire is composed primarily of popular songs altered to fit a folk, spiritual or classical idiom. The group's first performance of the year was given at the annual Christmas assembly. Incorporated also sang at the Finch Trustee Tea, the spring assembly and informally at various Finch functions. The size of Incorporated varies from year to year but is usually eight or nine members.

THE DANCE CLUB

The purpose of the Dance Club is to promote an interest in the dance by attending recitals, showing films and arranging demonstrations. The members of the Club have enjoyed touring the Harkness House of Ballet Arts and attending ballet and modern dance performances.

THE DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club is composed of a group of students who share a common interest in the theatre. There is one major production each year in which students participate in every aspect of the theatre: acting, production and management.

In addition, the Club meets at least once a month prior to the major production to read plays for practice. This was excellent preparation for tryouts.

Esta actuación tuvo un éxito tan grande que la Tuna regresó unas semanas más tarde para pasar en Finch una alegre velada de canciones y refrescos.

En el segundo semestre, el departamento de español presentó "Una noche con Federico García Lorca," donde se representaron poemas del autor. Fue una presentación dramática en la cual participaron los departamentos de drama y de danza.

Las socias del Círculo español recibieron insignias con la inscripción "El círculo español" con la fecha de su graduación.

EDUCATION CLUB

The Education Club serves as a forum for students interested in matters affecting all levels of education. Programs presented this year covered such topics as sex education, computer education, graduate studies, urban education, the United Nations and the League of Women Voters.

The Club also sponsored an informal tea which was attended by teachers and administrators who had aided students in their outside teaching experiences.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

The Psychology Club was organized in the spring of 1966 to promote interest in the various fields of psychology. It offers a forum for students with a common interest in psychology by encouraging the investigation of pertinent, new and controversial areas.

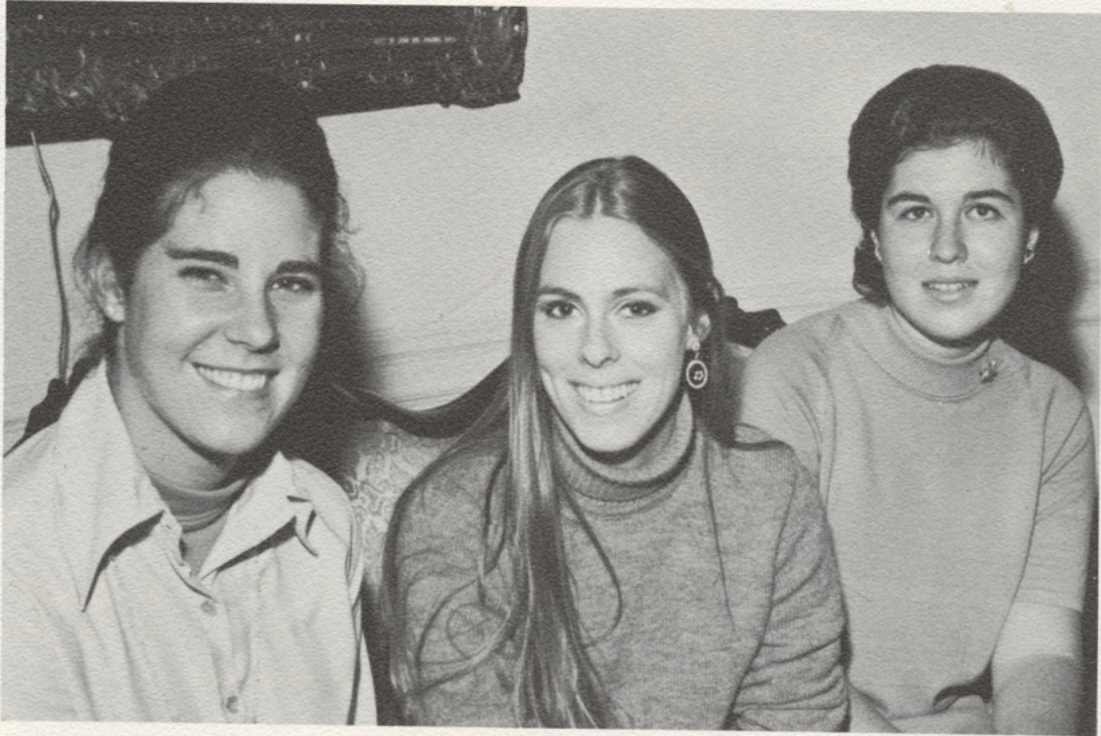

The program is broad in scope and attempts to provide a variety of guest speakers, films and field trips. Events included a speech on hypnotherapy by Dr. Ivan Rosenberg, a speech on current trends in E.S.P. by Dr. Gertrude Schmeidler, and a show of the controversial film "Obedience."

The purpose of the literary magazine PenInsula, which was founded four years ago, is to provide a medium through which members of the student body may express themselves creatively. The forms of writing included in PenInsula are varied and include poems, poetic prose, short stories, essays and plays. Art is also included.

The PenInsula comes out in May of each year. Under active consideration by this year's staff were plans to publish two issues per school year and to include photography in each issue.

Each year the Committee sponsors one or two social functions for the entire college, such as an afternoon mixer last December which was attended by visiting cadets from West Point.

FINCH BALL

Throughout the years the Finch Ball has represented the major social event of the season. To many it is also the most gratifying of the college year. The Ball enables the entire college to join together in an atmosphere of fun, gaiety, and camaraderie. It implements one of the main objectives of the college, that of broadening the base of our student body. This is accomplished by adding to it academically qualified and worthy students who, in order to attend Finch, need varying degrees of scholarship aid.

The 1969 Finch Ball was held on Saturday night, March 8, at the Hotel Pierre. With the aid of the Peter Duchin Orchestra, a rock and roll group who played at a midnight discotheque, a band of gypsies who told many a fortune, and the generosity of the friends and neighbors of the college, the evening was an enormous success.

F I S P

The Finch Intercontinental Study Plan offers more than nine months of study in Europe to students enrolled in their third year of college. Centers of study have been established in London, Madrid, Paris and Rome. Designed to utilize these locations to best advantage, the curriculum concentrates on an intensive study of the art treasures which may be found in each country and on the socio-economic and cultural aspects. The language of the country in which each of the centers is located is also studied. More than two months is spent in each of the centers.

SKYVIEW

'T WAS THE NIGHT BEFORE OPENING . . .

'Twas the night before opening, when all through the school
Every creature was stirring, from wise man to fool
Big sisters were posted in the lobby with care
In hope that new students would not soon be there
Fran in her hard hat and Pam with her broom
Were sweeping and cleaning the welcoming room
When out on the steps there arose such a clatter
We sprang from our chairs to see what was the matter

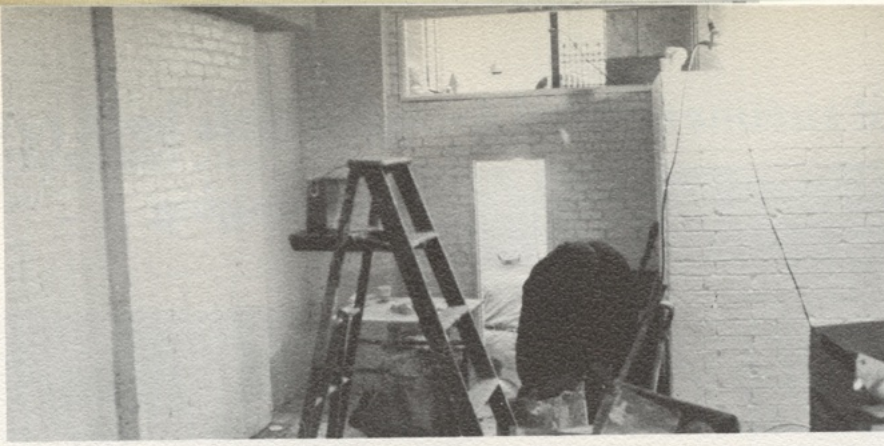

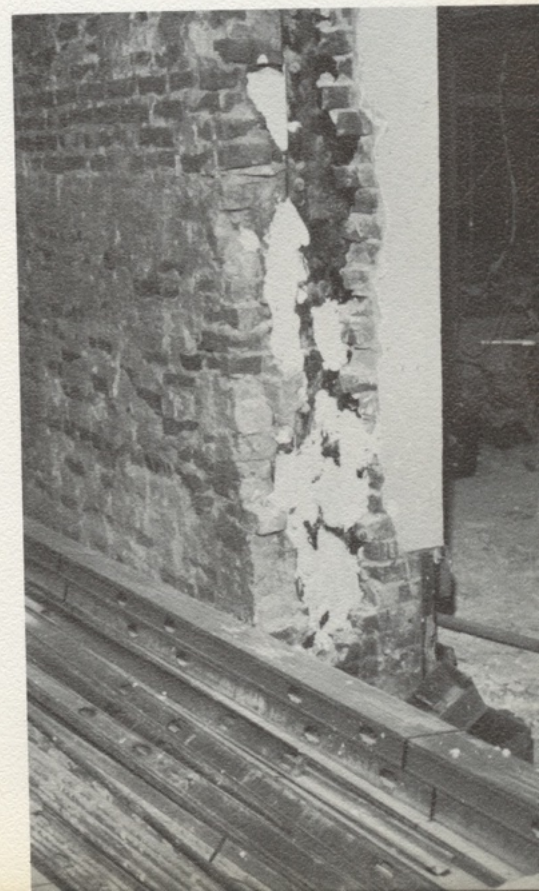

When to our wandering eyes what should appear
But a plump big senior and six freshman in fear
More rapid than eagles with bundles they came
And they giggled, and trembled, some sound and some lame
"Take Donna, take Bethie, take Mindy and Sue
Please somebody take them all home with you"
The Deans and the President said in alarm
"Please come back in a week; t'will do you no harm"

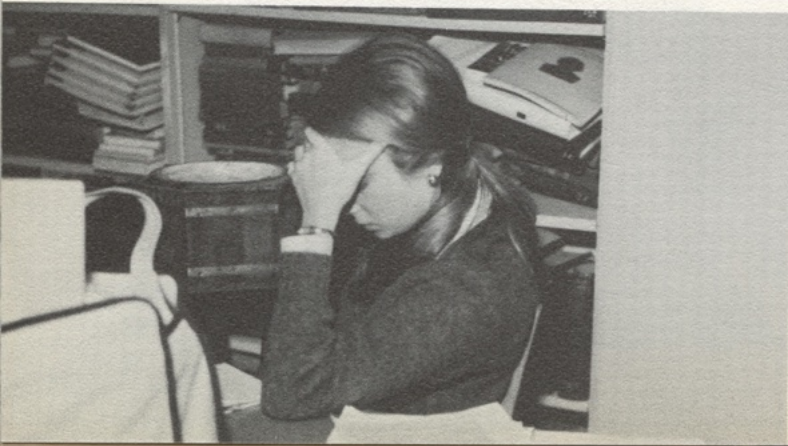

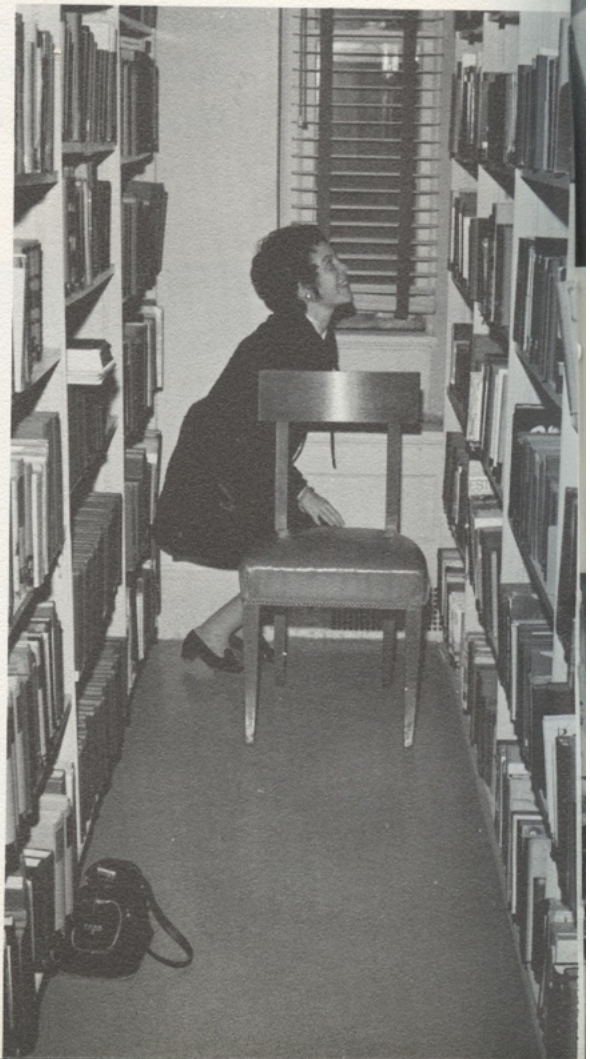

Now dash away! dash away! dash, away all!
And we'll have beds and desks where now only is wall.
We met with an obstacle high as the sky
Striking plumbers, no painters, much red tape is why
Just give us a week the President cried
And we'll give you a place in which to take pride
His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimple how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
As he sprang to the stairs, to escape from the rope
And away they all fled, like the down off the thistle
And I heard him explain, with a low little whistle:
Happy opening to all by next week, I hope!

Parties . . .

Excerpts from a letter read by Dean Felder at the Halloween Party:

Dear Mummy and Dad Dads,

Have not really told you much about the physical plant as they call it here. When I first moved into the new dorm, I thought everyone was going on a picnic cuz they kept running around with baskets—really no picnic at all—modern version of a drawer. Would be great for mid-gets if we had any. It made unpacking very simple. When I got my two best blouses and two pairs of panty hose in my baskets, I had filled them—the rest is in a pile on a shelf about 18 feet above my pad in the cell block.

Some of the class activities are held outside the academic compound. There's a whole group of kids who signed up for Maxwell's History 103 but evidently there is some confusion. They have been over at Mawell's on second avenue every morning at 11:00 and there hasn't been one lecture yet. Maybe the course is being given at the Ukranian Institute also.

We have a great newspaper which came out today—even pictured the rear view of one of them pleading for more action.

No one can wait to see the new yearbook—the Skyline. Originally everyone decided that it was going to be a series of letters from the Chronicler to the Dean with some speedy retorts. Front cover was to have been a dart board with Guess Whos picture on it. But this has sort of simmered down and guess the Dean has decided that the Editor tastes good like a Winston should.

Well mummy I must run to Fundamentals of Speech. Hope I get there. Even the elevator around here is perverted—stops only on the odd number floors.

Love,
Twila

And More Parties . . .

THE

The year began with the sights and sounds of construction. It took a few of the dorm students two weeks before they realized that they were actually in a room rather than a fallout shelter. The administration blamed the problem on the strikes of the workmen and the workmen blamed the problem on the salaries which they received from the administration. Aren't we lucky that we have a faculty which is so dedicated that they do not complain about their salaries.

As T.S. Elliot may have put it, classes began this year not with a bang but a whimper. The whimper of girls saying how can they pass an intermediate language course when they haven't studied a language for years. The whimper of the freshmen in History 101 saying how can they possibly do three hours of work a night just for one course. The whimper of girls waiting on line at the bookstore. The whimper of the girls waiting in line outside the registrar's office trying to get out of their language and history classes.

Soon after the girls settled down in their classes, quizzes began to appear. The lights in the dorm began to remain on till the wee hours of the night. Soon after the first grades of the first quizzes were returned, the smiles of the freshmen began to disappear. Soon after the smiles began to disappear, so did a few freshmen. They started out by saying how much they didn't like Finch, New York, or anything else for that matter. This year one such girl left with a bang and not a whimper.

CHRONICLE

We don't wish to imply that Finch offers little opportunity for fun. In fact, the social committee had more mixers this year than any other year. Additionally, the chairman of the social committee did such a good job that she managed to get married before the Thanksgiving turkey was even cold.

On the more political side of Finch, we welcomed many speakers who represented candidates in the year's election. Paul O'Dwyer's son came to speak to the Finch girls on behalf of his father's candidacy for the New York State Senate. Robert Humphrey came to speak on behalf of his father's candidacy for the President of the United States. Unfortunately, we were not able to obtain Richard Nixon's daughter.

This year's Halloween party was another success although we would like to point out to Twila, whose letter was read by Dean Felder at the party, that the cover of this book was never intended to be used as a dart board even though we had planned to put Dean Felder's picture on the cover. It was to be superimposed on a target range but the publisher would not allow this. Furthermore, Big Daddy was never invited to write a rebuttle to this chronicle although we will be happy to give him the name of the publisher if he wishes to do so. We are sure that the price will be reasonable.

TGFT—Thank God for Thanksgiving—is a broad feeling as turkey day approaches. Unfortunately it comes and goes all too quickly. Then, on returning to college, you wonder why you didn't complete the three books and two papers you had put aside saying that you would do them over Thanksgiving. How were you supposed to know that four days was not really that long a time.

Why is it that midterms don't come and go as quickly as vacations do? Oh, the sweat and toil!

But then as temperatures start to drop and the holly begins to rise, the thoughts of Florida and the Virgin Islands appear in the mind of any good Finch girl. Bring out the bikinis and the false eyelashes and you are ready to set sail on the Boeing 707. The tans some of the girls return with following vacation were remarkable. Unfortunately, it was an off year . . . very few diamond engagement rings. But take heart, the catalogue reads "a ring by spring or double your money back."

What comes after C in the Finch alphabet is E which stands for exams. The real thing baby. Only four short weeks after vacation and those thoughtful instructors spring the most horrendous exams on you. One girl was even injured this year. She got a hernia just from trying to lift one of the ghastly exams that she was given. From her hospital bed she was quoted as saying "the audacity of them."

As the new semester begins there are tears and smiles. The smiles came at the opening assembly of the second semester at which time Dean Felder read the Dean's List. The tears came the next day when the students who were put on probation were notified. But with new courses there comes a certain freshness. Like students remarking that they'll show that damn teacher this time.

As all must realize, the yearbook goes to press long before the end of the calendar year, thus the following section of the Chronicle will be predictions of future events to come.

The members of the Psychology Club who firmly believe in precognition have offered to help us and they have come up with the following predictions:

1) Next year's student body president will be Tiny Tim; however, it will be a close election, with Rebecca Rouser running second.

2) Mark Piel will have to rearrange the entire library due to a water leak in the new air conditioning system.

3) The new dining room will win the House Beautiful Award, beating out the Palace of Versailles.

4) The school will be endowed with 10,000,000 dollars for scholarships for students from Kalamazoo who plan to major in photography.

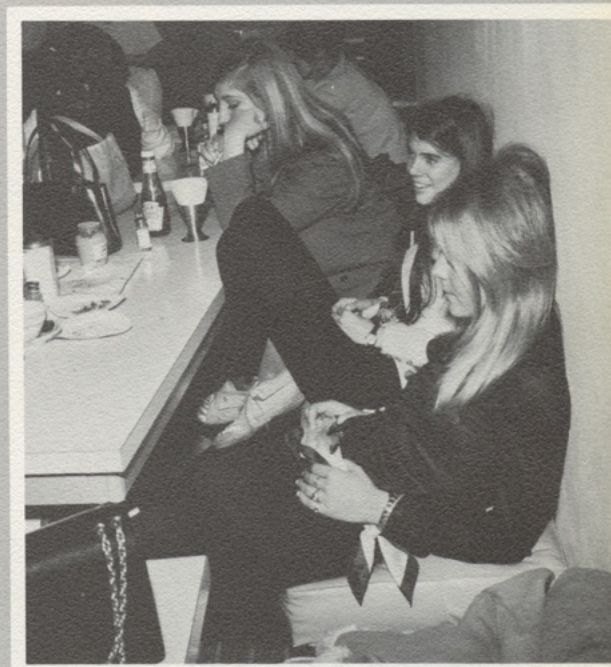

5) This year's graduation will not attract as many secret service men as last year's.

6) The underground newspaper which was published this fall will win the regional award for the worst paper of the year.

7) This year's Finch News will get out a fourth edition.

8) Finally, this year's flying fickle finger of fate award will go to—next year's yearbook editor.

So we bid a fond adieu to the year 1969.

To The Students:

When four years of work, sweat and toil disappear into a fond memory, it is hoped that this yearbook will help to recall both the happy and the pensive hours which were spent at Finch. It is to this aim that we have endeavored to put out a yearbook which will be more than a reference of names. We are sure that everything will not appeal to everyone. If, though, there is a picture or phrase which holds some meaning for each person then we may say that we have succeeded.

As this year's editor I should like to thank my staff for their help and pay homage to my assistant editor for her perseverance. A word of thanks should be paid to Anne Smith and all the other girls who rallied to help us meet our first deadline. Dean Harris and Mrs. Moos should also be recognized for their kind assistance. Finally we are indebted to Mrs. Hayes who not only allowed us to work in her room but also gave a helping hand whenever she was called upon.

We hope that this book will give you the same satisfaction and joy that it has already given to those of us who have been a part of it.
