Dearest Ceil -
you are a very lovely lady
(big deal, huh?)
and I've loved knowing you. It is rather true to say
all this but I mean
it. I've loved all the crazy times we've had together. Especially the dinner we served at your apartment. I'll never forget that was a panic!

Senior Reflections

With a feeling of fulfillment and confidence we are terminating our academic careers at Finch College, knowing that we have embodied within ourselves the ideals, standards and principles of our college, Finch College. Behind us lies a half century of tradition which, during our stay at Finch, we have been privileged to lay claim to and to help carry on.

Mrs. Cosgrave, our founder, believed that a Finch graduate should be a leader of her community, a good homemaker, a successful wage earner as well as a cultured woman. We are indeed a combination of these ideals now, but it was not so very long ago that we entered the portals of Finch College for the first time.

Our Freshman year introduced us to the real meaning of being a college student. We found that the multitude of books we purchased from the bookstore gathered no dust. Many a time we burned the midnight oil, trying to master material for certain required courses which we thought were impossible to comprehend. Fortunately our small sized classes made it possible for the professors to give us the individual instruction that we needed. The informal academic atmosphere led to the formation of lasting friendships between faculty and students.

After experiencing and successfully completing our mid-semester and final exams we found we had finished one year of college and were looking forward to coming back in the fall as Seniors of the Junior College.

Our Sophomore year seemed to pass quickly as we found greater confidence in ourselves and an ability to attain more knowledge. For some of us graduation day, as it is this year, was a day filled with excitement and was the culmination of our education. However, for many of us it seemed to be the day that was to open the door to the continuation of an education in the Upper College.

In our Junior year we remember the thrill of receiving our senior class rings. We anxiously looked forward to that year, Senior Year, and it finally came.

The work was stepped up that year. The social activities of which we had partaken in former years seemed more and more exciting to us. The Finch Ball was, as always, a beautiful affair. The excitement of sporting our best beau and dancing to Lester Lanin's music in the luxurious atmosphere of the Plaza provided us with a wonderful night to remember.

The Drama Club production and the Operetta afforded the girls a chance to show off their talents and they did so with a great deal of success.

The Alumnae House took on even greater importance to us as we looked forward to being a part of the Finch Alumnae upon graduation this year.

Graduation day had finally arrived and we received our hoods and diplomas. With the excitement of the day ending we had completed four years of our college education. But there is more than just the work, the friends, the social life and graduation itself. There is a tradition that we have come to value and will always carry with us. It is this tradition that we will pass to this Freshman class and to all that follow.

Our college is not only what Mrs. Cosgrave said it was; it is your home for four years, years which pass quickly, only too quickly, as we the seniors have seen. It is this tradition and the principles which embody it that we will carry out into the world with us. Perhaps better than any words which we the editors of the yearbook could find for an ending, are those of Mrs. Cosgrave in saying farewell —

“Service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy on earth.”

Dedication

We sincerely dedicate this book to the former chairman of our faculty and the head of the English department, Jeremy F. Bagster — Collins, Ph.D., who led many to knowledge and stirred the intelligence to seek further toward even more understanding in the world of literature. Dr. Bagster — Collins has not only brought a great deal of personal integrity and creative talent to the classroom but has added to the Finch stature with his pamphlet, the History of Finch College. He has revealed that in education, "Fine art is that in which the hand, the head, and the heart of man go together." John Ruskin

Alma Mater

Alma Mater, fount of wisdom, thou hast been our stay
In hours of joy, in hours of sorrow, as we have sought our way.
In our years of pliant youth, thou gave us power to see
The paths of justice, freedom, truth—these things we owe to thee.

May the light of thine own teaching long with us remain,
And e'er inspire us, upward reaching, for our spirits' gain;
May it, through the years before us, purge our hearts of pride,
And INEAMUS MELIORA be evermore our guide.

Inter-Club Council

Joan Thomas, Nancy Harrell, Carole Connery, Genevieve Downing, President, Beverly Greason, Marla Schneider, Anastasia Tsamisis. Standing: Tina Vogel, Genevieve Arnault, Louise Spence.

The many social and civic groups that make up Finch's extra-curricular activities are joined in an executive organization, the Inter-Club Council, in order that they may more completely fulfill their purpose of enriching school life, providing a community of diverse interests. As a clearing house for dates and schedules, the Council aids in insuring each project's success.

In order to aid in combined activities of the various clubs and committees, the Council administers a fund from which the individual clubs may borrow. Through such operations, the Council has aided in the attainment of its goal, inter-club cooperation.

Genevieve Downing, Linda Weil, Joan Mossey, Jean Lott, Alice Van Derwerken, Michele Brown, Carol Barnes.

Marianne Johnson
President

Upper College Student Council

This year Marianne Johnson is President of the Upper College Student Council. The government of the Finch College Student Body is vested in the Student Councils. The Council is responsible for the making and enforcing of the rules governing the Student Body, and for upholding the Honor Code, which covers an important phase of academic life.

Junior College Student Council

Lee Masselman is this year's President of the Junior College Student Council. This organization works in connection with the Student Council of the Upper College. Since there are many problems which are common to both colleges, the Student Councils usually hold joint meetings, to which the student body is invited. Faculty advisors work in close cooperation with the members of the councils.

Patricia King, Jean Baird, Edna Wardlaw, Lee Masselman, President, Virginia Holden, Margaret Pritchett, Susan Embree.

Mary Stahmann, Jane Smith, Mrs. Weld, Mrs. Solanko, Michele Brown, Beverly Greason.
Standing: Carole Hirsh, Barbara Burford, Christa Mayer.

House Committee

With Barbara Burford as President, and under the guidance of Mrs. Weld, the House Committee rules on all non-academic matters pertaining to the resident students. The Committee acts as a liason between students and the faculty and determines penalties for all infractions of social regulations. Its functioning is of obvious value to both resident students and faculty.

Linda Weil, Jean Baird, Dr. Egilsrud, Dr. Maxwell, Miss Decker, Carole Hirsh.

Standing: Alice Van Derwerken, Edna Wardlaw, Beverly Greason.

Joint Honor and Policy Board

Violations of school attendance regulations and of the House Code are dealt with by this student government committee. The Board is made up of both faculty and students. It is the Board's policy to give out fair and positive penalties rather than rigid punishments.

International Relations Club

To investigate various cultures and national groups and the factors behind international relations is the aim of the International Relations Club. Foreign students and speakers attend the club meetings to provide topics for discussion. Beverly Greason is the chairman of this activity.

First row: Janet Ley, Lee Masselman, Virginia Todd, Anastasia Tsamisis, Rhoda Berger.

Standing: Mary Stahmann, Camilla Canfield, Barbara Green, Susan Stern, Elizabeth Thompson, Martha King, Lois Moran, Ann Perry, Suzanne Copeland.

Phyllis Romm, Suzanne Newman, Charlene Saunders, Tina Vogel, President, Elaine Leviton, Linda Wax, Francine Warpick.
Standing: Marcia Hauptman, Louise Spence, Adrienne Allen, Marilyn Rippie, Janet Ley, Mary Ann Robinson.

Community Service Club

In carrying out its purpose of providing social service, the Community Service Club, headed by Tina Vogel, has collected and distributed baskets to the needy, and at Easter to hospitalized children. Also as part of its program hospitalized children were visited.

Athletic Association

Standing: Ann Perry, Martha King, Ann Davis, Seated: Penelope Hueksch, Anastasia Tsamisis, Leslie Paradise, Sally Covington.

With Miss Margaret Decker as its leader, and Anastasia Tsamisis as its President, the Athletic Association seeks to increase student participation in various school-sponsored sports. Dancing, swimming, bowling, fencing, riding, badminton are just a few of the sports that it sponsors within the college. To this end the Athletic Association sponsors various athletic tournaments which are enthusiastically supported by the student body. Mid-semester skiing and the Easter jaunt to Bermuda are also activities sponsored by this organization.

Library Committee

The Library Committee, composed of students and faculty, formulates plans for the increased convenience and efficiency of the Library. Students assist the librarians in administration, thus promoting increased student cooperation.

French Club

By conducting its meetings in French, attending French movies and lectures, visiting French restaurants, the French Club, headed by Genevieve Arnault, attempts to give the student a better understanding of French culture and civilization.

Publicity Club

Diana Wright, Nancy Harrell, President, Joan Mossey, Jane Smith, Joan Thomas.

The Publicity Committee communicates information concerning all Finch events to the college and to the community outside the school. The Committee both originates and distributes posters, releases articles to the Finch News and other papers, and presents publicity-aimed skits — all while working in close cooperation with the other extra-curricular organizations. Under the direction of Nancy Harrell, the group helped the year's school events to much of their success.

Social Club

First row: Marie Phelps, Catherine Hundley, Susan Bailey, Annette Yoss, Diane Ekholm, Genevieve Downing.
Second row: Bennie Atkins, Lee Masselman, Sheila Keller, Mrs. Weld, Joan Thomas, President, Carol Barnes, Jean Lott, Carole Connery.
Standing: Helen Meister, Donna Slavitt, Cynthia Walton, Martha King, Nancy Imboden, Barbara Groo, Barbara Burford, Phyllis Pestey, Ronny Kowal, Elaine Pestey, Ethel Ann MacGregor.

The social side of college life is partly provided for by the work of the Social Committee, headed by Joan Thomas. Among the successful events of the season were the dances held at the Sherry-Netherland in October and the Savoy-Plaza in December.

Finch Ball Committee

Under the direction of Sheila Maurer, the Finch Ball Committee is under the organized center of the college's main social event. This year the ball was again held at the Hotel Plaza and was a marvelous success. The orchestra of Lester Lanin provided the music, and the midnight supper was a special feature. Proceeds from the Finch Ball are donated to the Jessica C. Cosgrave Scholarship Fund.

Samuella Schupper, Shelia Maurer, Chairman, Shelia Sanders.

Standing: Cecille Gavin, Sheila Keller, Annette Yoss.

Drama Club

The Drama Club, under the leadership of its president, Lois Wilson, provides a focal point of interest for those students interested in the theatre. The Club's annual full-length play is presented during the second semester and, in addition, the Club participates in the operetta and Variety Show. Club meetings feature play readings, skits and other informal exercises of talent.

First row: Lee Masselman, Stephanie Schnitzer, Lydia Lowey, Roberta Moreno.
Second row: Susan Stern, Nancy Harrell, Sandy Haas, Diane Ekholm, Yolanda Bartoli, Marla Schneider, Martha King.
Standing: Elizabeth Brown, Ann Perry, Diana Robinson, Jean Baird, Suzanne Copeland, Ginger Runes, Betty McDowell, Susan Embree.

Finch News

The Finch News is the college newspaper published monthly by the students and covers all phases of college life, both academic and social. Edited by Louise Spence, who has an active staff and general student help, the paper contains news which focuses on the interests of the College.

Dance Club

The Dance Club, with Marla Schneider and Yolanda Bartoli as co-chairmen, is newly formed this year. It supplements body movement courses designed for radio and television majors and provides increased dance experience for interested students. In addition, club members participate in the Variety Show and the operetta.

Stephanie Schnitzer, Nancy Harrell, Miss Betty Low, Ruth Parker, Marla Schneider and Yolanda Bartoli co-chairman.

Standing: Bertha Moreno, Virginia Todd, Diane Ekholm, Jean Baird, Sandy Haas, Sara Covington.
